

H Scenic Drive

Crieff to Aberfeldy, A822/A826

This route between Crieff and Aberfeldy is arguably the most beautiful road in Perthshire, taking you up to the highlands from grazing land and forest, through the dramatic Sma'Glen (parking for picnicking by the river), past towering hillsides, wild moors and small lochs down into the Tay Valley.

I Corbenic Poetry Path

A wonderful introduction to the different landscapes of Scotland, the path meanders through a variety of terrains including open hillside, moorland, ancient native woodlands, hazel coppice, and riverbanks. The path has been designed with a variety of surfaces to be as sensitive as possible to the wild terrain it passes through, but sadly it is not wheelchair friendly.

It curves and contours, rises and falls with the shape of the land offering a means of accessing quiet corners and magical places that would otherwise remain hidden away and forgotten. Along the well-marked and circular route you will find poems and sculptures all created by local artists.

There is only parking for a few cars so start early and it will take 2-3 hours. The path is always open and free. What 3 Words: ///potential.deferring.orbited.

F Loch Leven

Brimming with wildlife and history, from one of Mary Queen of Scot's prisons, to thousands of wildfowl, it is a fascinating place to visit at any time of year. There is a Loch Leven Heritage Trail along a well-made, level path suitable for all-terrain buggies. The circuit goes right round the Loch Leven National Nature Reserve along the loch side and through varied woods and marshland. There are several opportunities for cafe stops along the 13-mile route. The walk starts at the jetty and passes a viewing area with seats overlooking Loch Leven Castle out on Castle Island. Boat trips run in the summer from Kinross Pier. Disabled access, Disabled toilets, Toilets, Food available, Parking on the southern shore of the loch, the RSPB Centre has great views of the loch, viewing hides and woodland trails. There are good facilities here too, including baby changing places, a shop and cafe. Ospreys nest by the loch to fish during the summer, while up to 20,000 pink-footed geese fly in from Iceland come autumn. Centre open daily, 10am - 5pm. What 3 Words: ///beeline.grunt.greed.

G River Tay Public Art Trail

This is a golden opportunity to see a selection of incredible artworks in a truly beautiful setting. The full trail takes you round the city and along both sides of the River Tay. If you want to do a shorter walk in tranquil gardens, the Art Trail takes you past the Riverside Park Heather Garden on the left bank across from Tay Street and takes in the lovely Norie Miller Park and Rodney Gardens. The walk is suitable for wheelchair users. www.bit.ly/perth-art-trail

The Queen's View Visitor Centre lies at the eastern edge of Loch Tummel and is surrounded by part of the Tay Forest Park. Walk through towering Douglas firs to the folly of Ossian's Hall and come face-to-face with the thunderous Black Linn Falls and wander along the banks of the River Braan. You might even see salmon leaping up the falls in autumn.

This stretch of magical Perthshire forest was originally designed as a pleasure ground in the 18th century for the Dukes of Atholl; today it feels wild and natural and stimulates all your senses while being an easy circular walk of about 2 hours. Heading north on the A9 from Dunkeld, the Hermitage car park is signposted to the left.

A moderately challenging circular walking trail, it takes 1-2 hours to complete. Suitable footwear advised. Dogs are welcome, but must be on a lead.

The castle has had a diverse history, both turbulent and peaceful and has been home to politicians, soldiers, agriculturalists and entrepreneurs. It offers a fascinating insight into Scottish history against a backdrop of fine 18th century interiors and Scots Baronial architecture.

The Gardens were laid out in the 18th century and include a walled garden. Peacocks roam freely, and red squirrels and Highland cattle can be seen in the grounds. There is also a Sculpture Trail, with a mixture of contemporary and 18th-century sculpture. Check the website for special events and to book tickets.

Welcome to Perthshire, it is a wonderful part of Scotland – from big trees, and big views to a diverse range of artists and creators. This guide to the Perthshire Creative Trail shows you places you can visit throughout the year. You will find galleries, solo artists and places to eat and visit. The map shows where things are and you can find more detail in the listing's pages – including opening times or how to arrange an appointment.

It is strongly recommended that you use this brochure in conjunction with www.perthshireopenstudios.com which will allow you to search by artists, activity, and opening times. The website will carry the latest news from each artist and place, and will take you through to their own websites. You will be able to save your plan for visits and print it out because there are areas of Perthshire where mobile reception is limited.

The Trail is made possible with the support of Perth and Kinross Council, UNESCO City of Craft (Perth), VisitScotland, Perth Creative Exchange, Growbiz, Perthshire Artisans, and the team at The Quair and is organised by Perthshire Open Studios.
